DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- A. Wherein the transition metal is copper.
- B. Wherein the transition metal is zinc.
- C. Wherein the transition metal is silver.
- D. Wherein the transition metal is manganese.
- E. Wherein the transition metal is zirconium.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 4151

2. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Claims 55-59 correspond to species A, wherein the transition metal is copper.

Claims 60-61 correspond to species B, wherein the transition metal is zinc.

Claims 62-63 correspond to species C, wherein the transition metal is silver.

Claims 64-65 correspond to species D, wherein the transition metal is manganese.

Claims 66-67 correspond to species E, wherein the transition metal is zirconium.

The following claim(s) are generic: 1, 68-77.

3. The inventions listed as Groups A through E do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each alternative does not have a common property or activity in that they require different transition metals in different ratios, producing intrinsically different X-ray diffraction peaks and electron spin characteristics. See MPEP 1850(III)(B).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
